NEW OFFENSIVE IN THE WEST

Germans Hurl Desperate Attacks Against Allied Line—Onslaught
by Air and Land.

Special Cable to The Washington Herald.

London, July 4.—The civil population already is fleeing from Warsaw, according to advices reaching here tonight, as Field Marshal von Mackensen, gathering momentum in his terrific drive, threatens to drive a wedge into the Russian center, split the Grand Duke Nicholas' armies in two and win the entire line of Vistula fortresses, while threatening Brest-Litovsk as well.

German aeroplanes, flying over Warsaw, have dropped circulars predicting the capture of the city before August comes in. Military critics here are willing to concede the German claims. They admit that unless Von Mackensen's drive can be stemmed within the next few days Warsaw will become untenable for the Russians.

Battering at Center.
The German advance between the Vistula and Bug Rivers is averaging about five miles a day. Despite their lengthening chain of communications, the natural difficulty of the country and the fact that they have to depend upon motor transport, the speed of the Teuton advance so far has showed no signs of diminishing.

While the Russian wings are holding their own fairly well, the exposed center is being subjected to a tremendous battering at the hands of Von Mackensen, whose vast movements threaten a deadly blow at the Russian grip on the Polish "quadrilateral" of fortresses.

Movement from North.
Activity on the part of the Germans in the north is becoming apparent in connection with the great drive from the south. An official statement issued at staff headquarters in Petrograd admits that the Germans have made gains in the Kalvaria section, while violent attacks have been directed against the Russians at other points. Oswiecim again is under fire of the German siege guns.

In the Baltic provinces Von Hindenburg with an army estimated at seven corps is waiting for the moment to strike for his southward swoop. German military critics believe. The naval activity off the Baltic coast suggests co-ordinate action with the land forces.

New Offensive Opens.
In the air and on land the Germans have begun a violent offensive in the west, partly in those regions where the French were expected to launch their great drive.

While a squadron of German aeroplanes rained bombs on Harwich on the Essex coast of England, and upon a flotilla of British torpedo boats at sea, the re-enforced armies of Crown Prince Frederick William have resumed their battering tank tactics against the French lines defending Verdun along the Binarville road. Not here alone, but also north of Arras, where less than two weeks ago the French demonstrations gave promise of a drive on Lens, the Germans have opened intense attacks, which have brought them up to the French defenses. The first hint received in London of the air raid on Harwich came by wireless from Berlin. The official statement issued there makes no report of the damage, and no details can be obtained from the military officials here. The Hd has been clamorous tonight on all news of air attacks. The admiral is silent on the reported air attack upon a flotilla of British torpedo boats.

SHE FLOWS IN TROUSERS.

Woman Discards Skirts to Become Successful Farmer.

Connellsville, Pa., July 4.—Perry township has a woman who goes about her work in a genuine mannish way. She is Miss Frances Cadero, aged 23. Alone she manages a 75-acre farm, including the care of six horses and several cows. This spring she put out ten acres of corn and several acres of oats. Along with this she "broke" two colts.

Her father ill, her mother unable to look after the farm and her brothers all away, she shouldered the burden of managing the farm. She began three years ago. She discarded woman's apparel and wears trousers in the field and in the barn. She has grown strong and healthy.

SECOND CRUISER LOST BY KAISER

Warship of Deutschland Type
Torpedoed in Windau Raid.

CREDIT TO SUBMARINE

Czar's Fleet Suffered Little Damage,
According to Report of Russian Naval Staff.

Petrograd, July 4.—The naval general staff has issued an announcement that during the series of naval actions following the raid attempted by German warships on Windau another big German warship of the Deutschland type was blown up by two torpedoes and sunk. The official announcement credits the destruction of the battleship to a submarine.

While the identity of the German seafighter is not disclosed there are only five ships of that distinctive type—the Deutschland, Hanover, Pommern, Schleswig-Holstein and Slesien. All were launched between 1904 and 1906 and are of 13,200 tons and carry a complement of about 800 men. They are heavily armed, their principal guns being eleven-inch and their speed between nineteen and twenty knots under forced draught. Their cost was more than $5,000,000 each.

Casualties Little Damaged.
The destruction of this vessel took place early in the series of engagements in the Baltic, which terminated Saturday in damaging two German cruisers after driving the German mine layer, Albatross, ashore on the coast of Gothland Island, Sweden.

Dispatches from the latter state that the commander of the Albatross was not killed as erroneously reported, the dead officer being First Lieut. Lowenberg. The twenty members of the crew killed have been buried there, twenty-seven wounded are being cared for in Swedish hospitals and 187 men have been interned. Throughout the series of conflicts the units of the Russian fleet suffered little damage.

JURY DISAGREES IN HENRY CASE

Fails to Reach a Verdict After Fifty Hours of Deliberation.

TWO VOTE 'NOT GUILTY'

Justice Siddons, at Special Session,
Denies Counsel Wright's
Application.

The jury that tried the case of John William Henry, former head of the defunct firm of Lewis Johnson & Co., brokers, on charges of embezzlement of about $41,000, was dismissed yesterday because of disagreement. Henry was tried on sixteen grand jury indictments, eight charging embezzlement and eight larceny after trust. The larceny after trust counts were stricken out by the court two weeks ago. It is reported the panel stood ten to two for conviction on the embezzlement charges.

When the jury was ordered to report yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock by Justice Siddons they had been deliberating since Friday afternoon at 1:15 o'clock. At 3 o'clock yesterday the foreman, Benjamin Mundell, was asked by Justice Siddons if there was any hope of reaching an agreement.

"Not the slightest," was the reply. The jurors were then ordered back to draw up their report, and at 3:30 were dismissed.

"The jury stood ten to two for conviction," said one of the jurors to a Herald reporter yesterday, "On the first ballot, cast Saturday morning, Foreman Mundell and Juror Beta voted for a verdict, and nothing could persuade them to change their vote."

"Beta said he was convinced Henry was morally guilty, but thought a reasonable doubt existed. Foreman Mundell asserted that under no circumstances would he change his vote."

Trial Began June 8.
Mr. Henry was put on trial June 8. The indictment by the grand jury contained originally sixteen counts of embezzlement and larceny after trust of eight checks aggregating $41,000 entrusted with him for investment by Mrs. Isabella Barkley, of Wayne, Pa.

Defending Henry were former Judge Daniel Thew Wright and T. Morris Wampler. The government was represented by United States Attorney John E. Laskey and Assistant District Attorney James H. Archer. The trial closed Friday afternoon with a spirited rebuttal by Attorney Laskey.

The jury was locked up at 10 o'clock Friday night. When court convened Saturday morning, the jurors were ordered to report, but reached no agreement. Later in the day, they were again ordered up. When they were locked up Saturday night at 10 o'clock, it was predicted they would be dismissed without having come to a decision.

At the special session held by Justice Siddons yesterday, Counsel Wright, for the defense, moved that if the jury found Mr. Henry not guilty on any count and disagreed on others, a verdict of not guilty should be given. This was overruled by Justice Siddons.

WASHINGTON SPEAKS

Soldier and Bride Insulted; Put in Jail by "Vice Squad"

Mrs. Waller F. Jones Tells How Police, Breaking in Through Window, Flung Coarse Insults at Herself and Husband While Conducting 'Raid.'

With trembling lips and tears in her eyes, Mrs. Margaret Jones, wife of Walter F. Jones, last night told how she and her husband were grossly insulted early yesterday morning in a raid on a house at 1128 Eighth street northwest, and how for more than eighteen hours the police kept her a prisoner in an iron-barred cell in the First precinct police station.

Her husband was still a prisoner in the police station at an early hour this morning, but obtained $50 collateral, which the police demanded that he should deposit before being released. The police admit that there is no charge against the young couple, but claim they were arrested as "United States witnesses."

The young couple were married on May 27 of this year by Rev. L. Morgan Chambers, of this city. Jones is a private at Washington Barracks. The wife is a refined in appearance.

"My husband and I had dined at a downtown hotel," said Mrs. Jones, "and it was nearly midnight Saturday night when we returned to the house at 1128 Eighth street where we have been rooming since last Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. James Hunt. I was partially disrobed when there was a commotion downstairs and three policemen in citizen's clothes ran up to the second floor."

"Who Are You, Anyway?"
"My husband objected to the policemen coming in our room, and one of them demanded of Walter, 'Well, who are you, anyway?' My husband told them his name and said he was a private in Company B, of the Engineer Corps, stationed at Washington Barracks. Then the policeman said:

"So, you're only a soldier, eh? Well, where do you get enough money to keep a woman?"

"Walter was so enraged at this insult he couldn't speak, but he was alone and there were three of them and all big men. I told Walter to show them our marriage certificate, but the policeman said:

"We don't want to see that. You can get marriage certificates at the five-and-ten-cent store."

"Then they told us to come along and get in the wagon, but I was not clothed and one of the policemen kept staying in the room. Finally my husband told the man to get out so I could dress, and he did step out into the hall."

"They took Walter and me downstairs, and we had to get in the patrol wagon and ride to the station, where they put him in one cell and me in another. I succeeded after a long delay in getting word to my brother, and he deposited upon which the police released me. Walter is still in a cell. The police made an awful error."

"They say now that they arrested us as witnesses, but they only put that against us when they learned that we were married by Rev. L. Morgan Chambers. I am a private at Washington Barracks, and my husband is a private at the same place."

WOMAN STRANGLED IN PARK PUZZLES POLICE

Lured Into Sheltered Spot, Victim
Was Gagged and Choked to Death.

New York, July 4.—The finding of the body of a well-dressed young woman in St. Mary's Park, the Bronx, early today gave the police a baffling murder mystery, as the slayer left not a clue that can be found to work upon. The woman, who was good looking, was choked to death. To make sure that she could make no outcry, a handkerchief had been stuffed into her mouth.

That whoever committed the crime had the confidence of the woman is shown by the fact that there was no evidence of a struggle. It is believed the woman was attacked after she had been choked into insensibility.

Park employees and policemen say they had seen the woman about the park earlier in the night. She had been pacing about the path in the vicinity of 163d street and Powers avenue and had acted as if she were expecting some one.

Policeman Frank P. Dolan, of the Alexander avenue station, saw the body lying on the slope near the Powers avenue entrance. There is some shrubbery in that spot, which indicated to the police that she had been lured to the spot indicated.

The body was still warm when found. The woman's clothing was torn.

RESENTS GREEK ACTIVITY.

Italian Paper Protests Alleged Move on Albanian Town.

Rome, July 4.—Commenting upon the reported movement of Greek "sands" toward Berat, Albania, which is a part of the hinterland of Albania, the Giornale d'Italia says:
"Italy cannot tolerate such a patent violation of the conference of London in a part of Albania directly affecting Italian interests. Either an official or unofficial advance in that direction assumes, from an Italian point of view, greater gravity than the Serbian and Montenegrin occupations of Thessaly, Tirana and Scutari."

TO ISSUE $500,000,000 LOAN.

Russia Plans Floating to Attract Popular Interest.

Petrograd (via London), July 4.—The Official Journal has published an imperial edict authorizing two issues of treasury obligations of $500,000,000 each in the shape of 5 per cent short-term notes, free of income tax.

The issue will be in denominations of $50 and upwards. This low denomination is expected to give the loan a popular aspect. The issue is to run for six months.

"GO WEST, YOUNG MAN."

But Still They May Revive This Indiana Law.

Gary, Ind., July 4.—Local suffragists have discovered that before women can vote in Indiana the election laws must be revised. A section of the law reads:
"The curtains in front of the booths must be of sufficient height from the floor to make the lower limbs of the voter plainly visible to the election officers."

EVELYN TO TESTIFY, DESPITE BREAKDOWN

Actress-wife of Thaw Will Leave
"Camp Jack" for Witness Stand.

Plattsburg, N. Y., July 4.—Evelyn Nesbitt Thaw will leave Chateau Gay Lake tomorrow afternoon for New York to assist the State in its efforts to return Harry K. Thaw to Matteawan. Such is her condition that twice today a physician was called to "Camp Jack," where Mrs. Thaw is living, from the village of Chateau Gay Lake, eight miles away.

She is on the verge of a breakdown and her physicians have begged her to forego the trip. She says that she has decided that it is her duty to do what she can to help the deputy attorney general, and that she will return to Chateau Gay Lake immediately after her testimony is taken.

Mrs. Thaw will be accompanied by Jack Clifford, her dancing partner, and possibly her little son Russell.

New York, July 4.—Counsel for the State and Harry K. Thaw in his hearing to prove his sanity, although out of town today, kept in close touch with all matters pertaining to the case. Chief interveners centers in the prospect of Evelyn Nesbitt Thaw becoming a witness when the hearing is resumed Tuesday. Coincident with the departure of Deputy Attorney General Coon and Becker it was reported that a new witness is being sought and will be produced this week.

SOUNDS OF BIG NAVAL BATTLE OFF HOLLAND

Heavy Cannonade Saturday Night,
Zeppelins Cruising Near Scene.

Amsterdam, July 4.—Gunfire of extreme violence was heard throughout the night near the island of Schiermonnikoog. The detonations were first heard Saturday night, and the firing continued almost without interruption until 8 o'clock this morning.

Four Zeppelins accompanied by a squadron of aeroplanes were seen cruising north of the island early this morning. Reports from Schietse and Lantz state that airships passed over them Saturday evening.

Schiermonnikoog is an island off the north shore of Holland, near a path likely to be taken by any raiders seeking the mouth of the Elbe and German ports like Bremenhaven protected by the German island stronghold, Helgoland, further north.

WAR WIDOWS EAGER TO WED.

Matrimonial Agencies Are Busy in Europe.

Berlin, July 4.—The war has given a sudden and unprecedented impetus to the "marriage-brokerage" game, and advertisements for husbands-war invalids in many cases—were never so plentiful as at present. Many women exhibit an irrepressible desire to get married right away, and appear to be quite unconcerned about the kind of a husband they get.

Individual women who want to get married at any cost are not the only ones, however, who have taken advantage of the unusual situation. The more or less shady matrimonial agencies are making hay while the sun shines, and apparently stop at nothing in order to turn a questionable penny.

Thus many have in some manner secured the names and addresses of women whose husbands have been killed at the front and intrude upon their grief with brazen offers of second husbands. The men for the most part are mere adventurers.

MEMORY LOST; GOES TAGGED.

"Mammoth Amelia," 490 Pounds,
Leaves Circus Routes.

La Fayette, Ind., July 4.—Mrs. John Parent, forty-eight years old and weighing 490 pounds, known far and wide as "Mammoth Amelia," is at her home here without a memory. The woman, wife of a former circus owner, has been traveling with carnivals and amusement concerns several years.

She was sent back home from an Iowa city with a tag attached to her clothing to guide railroad employees in directing her journey.

RUSS CAPTIVES 520,000.

Great War Booty Taken by Germans in Galicia Campaign.

Berlin, via wireless to Sayville, July 3.—Russian prisoners alone totalled more than half a million since the Austro-Germans began their drive through Galicia, a military writer estimated today.

"From May 2 until June 1, 1915, we left in our hands 520,000 men, 1,500 officers, 300 field guns and 700 machine guns, besides an incalculable quantity of other war material," the writer estimated.

OLD MEN REFUSE TO FIGHT.

Revels Reported in German Land-wehr and Landsturm.

Paris, July 4.—A violent uprising is said to have occurred among the Landwehr and Landsturm troops now fighting in Alsace.

Old men who had been fighting daily refused to advance according to the story and many of them have been arrested.

HOLT POISONED HIS WIFE, SAYS CHICAGO WOMAN

Man Who Assailed Morgan
and Placed Capitol Bomb
Said to Be Fugitive.

LETTER OUTLINES PLOT

Mrs. Morgan and Children to Have Been Dynamited If Plea Was Rejected.

NEW SCARE AT THE CAPITOL

Police Find Aged and Eccentric Man
Roaming Through Great Building.

New York, July 4.—This bulletin on Mr. Morgan's condition was given out at 8:30 o'clock tonight by Julius Spencer Morgan:

"The bullets did not enter the abdomen, and an X-ray examination shows that no bones have been damaged. Mr. Morgan's condition continues to be most favorable."

"J. W. MARKOE, M. D.,
"H. H. M. LYLE, M. D."

Amplifying the above statement, Julius Spencer Morgan said:
"My father is still confined to his bed. I cannot say when he will be able to return to his office. That is still very indefinite. It will be some time, however."

New York, July 4.—Frank Holt, J. P. Morgan's would-be assassin, and Prof. Erich Muentzer, the fugitive Harvard professor, are the same man, according to dispatches received here from Chicago tonight.

Miss Bertha Muentzer, of that city, the dispatch states, this evening positively identified a photograph of Holt as that of her brother, Erich Muentzer, who has been a fugitive since April, 1906.

Muentzer disappeared after it was alleged he had murdered his wife, Leonie Muentzer, by arsenical poisoning ten days after the birth of their daughter.

Reveals Dynamite Plot.

Mrs. J. P. Morgan and the Morgan children were to be held as hostages in their own home and killed with dynamite if J. P. Morgan refused to use his influence to stop the exportation of war munitions, Holt revealed today.

This fact became known when Holt addressed a letter to Rev. O. F. Senaubaugh, Dallas, Tex., his father-in-law, outlining the scope of his irrational plans for bringing about peace in Europe. Coincident with the news of Holt's daring plot came the announcement from Glen Cove that the wounded Mr. Morgan was making satisfactory progress. His condition was pronounced "most favorable."

George Barnitz, a detective attached to the anarchist squad, asked Holt what he would have done had Mr. Morgan returned with the police to demand the surrender of Mrs. Morgan and the children.

"I had not thought of that," replied Holt. "It was simply my intention to hold them in an upper room, leaving only a slight aperture for the passage of food from the outside."

Would Have Shot Children.

"Would you have shot Mrs. Morgan or the children in the event of a showdown?" persisted Barnitz.

"The children," replied Holt after studying the matter.

Frank Holt denied tonight that he was Prof. William J. Flynn, of the United States Secret Service, Police Commissioner Woods, and Acting Capt. Turney, of the anarchist squad, questioned the prisoner regarding his identity with Prof. Muentzer. His replies were either evasive or a complete denial.

Further information pointing to Holt as Muentzer was given to a newspaper today. The informant, a college associate of Muentzer during his Chicago days, says he knew of Muentzer rehabilitating himself as Holt. The informant added he had known of him as Holt in Vanderbilt University and Cornell. The informant, whose anonymity was pledged by the newspaper, was quoted as saying:

Sure of Identity.
"Frank Holt, who shot J. P. Morgan, is the Erich Muentzer who took his degree of A. B. at the University of Chicago in 1899 and later fled from Cambridge, Mass., following the death of his wife, and has since been a fugitive."

There is no doubt about Muentzer and Holt being the same man. He has kept hidden all these years through a remarkable rehabilitation under the name of Holt.

Muentzer was born in Germany, but since his rehabilitation has claimed to have been born in Texas of German parentage. For a time he taught German in the Harvard School of Chicago, a private preparatory institution. He also taught German in Radcliffe College for Women.

"His wife was a pleasant, German-American woman, as I remember her. Muentzer's mind ran on sex matters. With others he formed a secret organization for the study of medieval mysticism."

"His wife was about to give birth to a child."
